Art Unit: 1772

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions, which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-40, drawn to a method of molding a mass with sections of two different compositions comprised of natural polymers.

Group II, claim(s) 41-49, drawn to a molded material of two sections of two different compositions.

Group III, claim(s) 50, drawn to a molding machine with two different nozzles.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the common technical feature of the groups is a molded body having sections of two different compositions. This is not a special technical feature because a molded body with sections of two different compositions is known in the art as evidenced by Uchiyama et al. (U.S. 5,188,882), which shows a body formed by molding with a polyethylene section and a rubber resin section.

3. A telephone call was not made, as the unity of invention requirement is complex, in that it involves a newly cited reference, which provides evidence as to the lack of a special common technical feature. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
